Skeletons Save Lives: “Skeletons for St. Jude” Surpasses $1 Million, Eyes $2 Million by 2028

Skeletons for St. Jude (SSJ) is a nationwide fundraising effort led by home haunters who use their Halloween displays to raise money for St. Jude Children’s Research Hospital to support children and families battling childhood cancer. Our goal is simple: raise as much as possible to help these children get well and home to enjoy Halloween and the holidays.

The fundraiser began in Holly Springs, NC, in 2020 when the Robertson family placed a St. Jude fundraising sign in their yard after a local TV station featured their skeleton Halloween display. After raising $8,200 in just a few weeks and meeting families impacted by childhood cancer, they were inspired to make the fundraiser an annual tradition.

From 2021 to 2025, Skeletons for St. Jude expanded nationwide, reaching more than 1,000 partner homes by 2024. To date, thousands of generous donors have contributed over $1.16 million to support St. Jude children and families battling cancer.

Skeletons for St. Jude has made headlines nationwide, from local media to national outlets like CNN’s “5 Good Things,” The Newsworthy, and NBC’s Today Show, among others.

We are deeply grateful to our partner homes, donors, sponsors, and Frightmaps for making this success possible—including Haunted Hill Farm, Jennifer Munoz Realty, Foley Orthodontics, FujiFilm Diosynth, Thermal Equipment, Bluegrass Hydronics & Pump LLC, Skelly Parts, Morris Costumes, The Home Depot, and Law Offices of Janet D. Fuenty, several of whom have supported us since the beginning.
